

Program: Write a program that takes a number as an input and finds whether the entered number is Even or Odd.

Program: Write a program that takes a number as an input and finds whether the entered number is Positive or Negative.

Program: Write a program that takes a character as an input and finds whether the entered character is Vowel or Consonant.

Program: Write a program that takes a character as an input and converts the case (small to capital or capital to small) .

Program: Write a program that takes three integer values as input and finds largest value.

Program: Write a program that takes three integer values as input and arrange them in descending order.

Problem: Write a program that takes a five digits number as an input from user. Your program should find whether the number entered by user is palindromic or not.